But the Eccentric Old Preacher Carries His Point.

ATLANTA, Cla., April 11 .- Dr. Pridgenn, thn man who proached his own funeral sermon near Athens last Sunday, has had trouble with his family. After the sor-men was all over he desired to rarry the coffin home with him and put it nway un-til such time as its services should be :quired. His wife, who had quietly borns nll of his foolish whites up to this time, asserted her authority and declared that the coilin should not enter her house until there was some rause for its presence. She was so firm that he permitted her to have her own way, and it was earried to a neighbor's house, where permission to leave it was obtained after considerable persussion. That night the prescher studied over the matter until he cunid not rest. He got up, dressed himsell sod waited for day, and with the first rays of dawn he went after the rofils, ninl, bringing it to his home, has kept it there over all opposition. His wife says she will not live in the house with the coffin, and things point lo n divorce between the evangelist and his apousa. Dr. Pridgeon's first wife was a Miss Willoughly, and hor parents had their coffice made long before thuir death and kept them in the house, their children using them to keep their hata in. He said if his coffin was shaped a little differently it would answer the place of a wardrobe, and his wife would not object to its presence until be needed it

CASTLE BUILDING.

- What are you building darling?"
 I saked of my girlio fair,
 As she quietly sat on the hearth-rus,
 Plian ber blocks with care,
 And the ruddy glow of the fire light
 Danced on her golden hair.
- "I am building a castie, mother,"
 My little maid replied—
 "And these are the walls around it,
 And head is a gateway wide,
 and this is a funny stairway
 To climb up by the side."
- The busy, fitting fingers
 Went on with hor pretty play.
 And the castle's walk were rieing
 In the lading winter day—
 When a sudden, luckless motion,
 And all in ruin lay!
- Ah, morry little builder, The years with stealthy feet, May bring full many a vision, Ol castles rare and sweet— To end like your baby-pastimes In ruin sad and fleet.
- You laugh o'er the toy walls fallen
- So susshino follows rain,
 And we may smile, looking backward
 At ruined shrine and fine—
 While the heart hath shattered temples
 It may not build again.

"Gentlemen, I have made a terrible discovery!" he gasps, "I myself have the fatal Bright's disease!"

In less than a year this specialist of the commenest and must fatal of diseases was dead. He was a victim of nivanced Kidney disease the presence of which in himself he had never suspected!

L. H. Prick, M. D., a gentleman and physician of the highest standing of Hanever, C. H., Va. 1 ser years ago, after trying every other remedy for Hiright's disease, including famous mineral waters, enred himself by Warner's Bafe Cure, and March 24, 1884, wrote: "I have never had the slightest symplems of my old and fearful trouble."

Mr. John Dehlemry, of Concord, N. H., was given up with Bright's disease by the best phys class in 1872. He was in a dreadful state. After using and being cured in 1881 by Warner's Safe Cure, in 1887, he wrote: "I am better than ever."

John Coleman, Esq., 100 Gregory St., New Haven, Conn., was first taken sick in 1873, gradually ran down until he had promunced Hright's disease, The best physicians in New Havea could denothing for him. He then began using Warner's Safe Cure, 20) bettles of which he and h's fam by have used and he is cured.
